John W. Dunlop, CEO, InterNetLC.com, LLC

Professional Summary

InterNetLC.com provides the eTrade Finance Platform™ web service for online eUCP international Letter of Credit and trade finance transactions. The company also provides pre-shipment working capital to exporters through its Export Transaction Financing™ program. Mr. Dunlop was past Director of International Services for Escrow.com, an Internet eCommerce company established through the funding alliance of MicroGeneral, Chase Manhattan Bank, VerticalNet, Softbank and others. From that experience John identified the tremendous need for simplified online international trade finance capability. He is president of his own Letter of Credit management company, and has been providing international Letter of Credit transaction management and documentation services since 1992. Mr. Dunlop has designed online trade finance capabilities for international banks and proprietary Internet-based software systems and applications related to global trade finance incorporating digital signatures. His experience includes aerospace engineering, airline operations and commercial jet engine marketing and management positions with Teledyne Ryan Electronics, Pacific Southwest Airlines, Thornwater International, Galaxie Management and Eastern Airlines. Mr. Dunlop serviced in the US Army as a company commander in Vietnam after graduating from the University of Notre Dame in aerospace engineering.
